The five-year-old was playing at his mother's home in Shillong when he fell and hit his head, police said. (Representational) A five-year-old boy died after he fell and hit his head at his home in Jiribam village in Meghalaya's East Garo Hills on Friday morning, police said. Station house officer of Khliehriat sub-division, which falls under Jiribam police station, Titon Haokip said in a release on Saturday that the police have registered a case of accidental death. The victim, identified as Gautamraj, is from a family settled in Shillong for decades, he added. The incident took place around 12.15 am at the victim's house where his parents were sleeping, Titon said. When his mother woke up to check on her child, the child was "passed out" and she immediately called the father, who ran to get him medical help, he said. The parents were "shocked" that their child had died and are currently inconsolable, the officer added. The police said a post-mortem will be conducted to ascertain the exact cause of death. Q: I was an acquaintance of a (very) funny friend and I feel bad about something I was an acquaintance of a (very) funny friend and I feel bad about something. Is that correct? A: It could be I was acquainted with a (very) funny friend or I was acquainted with a funny friend In any case, the word "was" is a little unusual here. "Was" could be better as "used to be" or "used to have been" in a similar sentence. I was acquainted with a funny friend used to be one. Q: Proving that a/2 is irrational I'm just looking for a little bit of help proving that a/2$ is irrational. I've tried to prove by contradiction and used the following logic: Suppose a/2$ is rational. So, a/2=q/p$. To prove that a/2$ is irrational, suppose, a/2$ is irrational. So, a=2*cdot q$. Thus, a/2=q/p$. So, p$ divides both a$ and q$. Contradiction. I've also tried multiplying both sides by 2$, i.e, a/2=2*cdot q/2$, and then subtracting 1/2$ from both sides, but it hasn't led to anything fruitful. Is there any easier way to do this? A: Hint: If a=pq$, then 2q=(p+q)/2$ and q$ is an even number. Q: How to resolve an EOFException when reading from a file using the Scanner I'm trying to read in from an input file. One of the officers was struck in the hand and arm. The two officers responded to a call of shots fired in the Archer Heights neighborhood. At least one bullet struck a home on South Archer in the 8100-block of South Laramie Avenue. When officers arrived, they found that the home had been shot at. A bullet had lodged in the side of the home. The woman inside said that she was not home at the time. Police said two male suspects fired shots through the back window of the home. The suspects then fled in a car. No one was injured but police are investigating the incident. FILED
